

Two Gallants, Crow Jane (Remix)

Well now, Crow Jane dont make no sense to me
She left me hanging from the poplar tree
No I never ever felt so free
Look at, mama, what youre doin to me

'Cause it aint no difference which way I smile
I aint good lookin from a quarter mile
Once had a women called me angel child
My reputation keeps me on track

But whos gonna save me from myself?
Gotta lay the blame on someone else

Somehow I aint got no hope
'Cause Im still runnin from the sheriffs rope
My shoes dont fit me 'cause they filled with dope
Crow Jane quit me and I just cant cope

But all I know is that Ill still run
And pledge allegience to the settin sun
I must've lost 'cause Crow Jane won
Ill never learn from anything Ive done

Crow Janes the strangest thing that ever talked Lips of honey but of tongues of chalk
Feet may be crooked but sure can walk
Took my money left me in shock

Got so many matches that it makes me sick
So many habits that I just cant kick
So many women that I just cant trick
She burnt like a candlestick

But whos gonna save me from myself?
Gotta lay the blame on somebody else

But somehow I aint got no hope
'Cause Im still runnin from the sheriffs rope
My shoes dont fit me 'cause they filled with dope
Crow Jane quit me and I just cant cope

But all I know is that Ill still run
And pledge allegience to the settin sun
I must've lost 'cause Crow Jane won
Ill never learn from anything Ive done

Well Crow Jane aint nothing but a painful case
She left me sucking on my own disgrace
Shes off trucking at a cheatin pace
And a lawless life is all I can embrace

Dress like a preacher so I cant be found
Chase Crow Jane from town to town
I smell her brain so she much be around
Just like my pain, the sun goes down

But whos gonna save me from myself?
Gotta lay the blame on someone else

Somehow I aint got no hope
'Cause Im still runnin from the sheriffs rope
My shoes dont fit me 'cause they filled with dope
Crow Jane quit me and I just cant cope

But all I know is that Ill still run
And pledge allegience to the settin sun
I must've lost 'cause Crow Jane won
Ill never learn from anything Ive done
