

Two Nice Girls, Rational Heart

(Kathy Korniloff)

Been thinkin' about the way you want me
Been thinkin' about the way you stare
I see you looking for a lover
You always caught me unaware
But I want a rational heart
Give me a rational heart
I know you'd like to hold me
Wrap me up and take me home
Cover my head and kiss my fingers
Our love become a safety zone
But I want a rational heart
Give me a rational heart
I don't want a sweet surrender
I don't want to fall drunkly in love
Nurturing private emotions
We're the only thing we're ever thinking of
I want a rational heart
Give me a rational heart
Standing ... Empty your heart into this cup
Standing ... And let your conscience fill it up
Standing ... Our open arms can heal the world
Standing in love ... innately powerful, equal and good
So if you want to be my lover
We're going to create this world anew
Living out the things we dream of
It's got to begin with me and you
And a rational heart
Building a rational world
