

Twoface, Relations

What does it take to be a man?
What does it take to be a friend?
I see you lying on the pavement
Watching the world pass us by

You're my relation
You're my relation

What does it mean to be a man
To be a friend?
I wish that I could be a saint
And lay my hand on you

Is there a line between my eyes?
And a rhythm inside?
What can I do to make a difference?
Someone take off my disguise

What does it mean to be a man
To be a friend?
I wish that I could be a saint
And lay my hand on you

Your eyes are staring at me
Just reach my hand
You're my relation
You're my relation
