

Tyla, How Did You Sleep At Night?

Well, finally they caught up with you
Though I bet you never thought they would
All those clues who's lead up blind alleys
And all the trails which had faded with time
There's just one question I would put to you
How did you sleep at night? Knowing she's out there
How did you sleep at night?
No murder weapon just the strength in your hands,
Fused with the madness watched in your mind of sand
How your act became so believable that any suspicion washed away with the time we all swam How did you sleep at night? Knowing she's out there all alone
Was it your conscience that you buried
Along with her in the snow?
How did you sleep at night?
How did you sleep at night?
How did you sleep at night?
