

Tyler Hilton, Pink And Black

So here you said you heard this once
Maybe lived it twice
With bias on my side
I swear I've got a different moral to relate to life
With a dime for your advice

You never saw a man to make a fist and grab so fast.
He said, good luck you know you better just forget it
'Cause love is never in the same place that you left it.
Yeah.

I said, you wouldn't understand, this was long-term love
She was perfectly described
What she wore when we last met, it was pink and black
With a hint of scarlet up inside.

You never saw a man with bigger eyes and understanding.
He said, good luck you know you better just forget it
'Cause love is never in the same place that you left it.
Yeah.

You never saw a man with bigger eyes and understanding.
He said, good luck you know you better just forget it
'Cause love is never in the same place if you left it.
Yeah.

He said, good luck you know you better go and get her
'Cause love is never in the same place if you left her.
Yeah.
