Tyrant Tea Club, Impossible

You know it's not the best thing to do, but I don't see another way cos you just make me blue, you know it's not the best thing to say, but I can't help it cos I feel that way

It's impossible, I gotta leave today It's biological no I can't stay I gotta move along, no matter what you say It's impossible to stay

It has to end even if I have to push with force, you know I would've given, would've given my life for yours, but-----it don't even feel right, the only thing that seems to work for us is fight

It's impossible, I gotta leave today It's biological no I can't stay I gotta move along, no matter what you say It's impossible to stay
