

Unashamed, Never Ends

You call me close-minded,
yet you're not listening.
I give you my hand,
but you push me away.
I'm just trying to help you,
to show you the truth.
I give you my hand,
but you push me away.

Trying my hardest to help you understand,
but you keep turning your back on me,
you keep shutting me out,
you ask for respect,
yet you give none back.
You attack my beliefs,
and the way I live.
Honest and true,
my life is not my own.
To God I give the glory,
I fall to my knees.

Feeling your pain,
you're breaking my heart.
I'm just trying to show you what God's love is all about.

Crying out to the one,
who will save me from this pain.
On my own, I cannot survive.
My destiny, eternal life.

Falling short of His will for me.