

Undercover (US), Sea Of Tranquility

Somehow I lost you
When I finally spoke my mind
I thought I'd feel better but now I
Think that I could die
I thought we had an understanding
And that things would be just fine
But I guess nothing goes like it should
Now I have to worry 'bout a broken heart again

Oh, no
Now I have to worry 'bout it
And I can't stop thinking of the
Sea of Tranquility
Sea of Tranquility
Sea of Tranquility

You tear me up and down
When you look at me like that
Words come hard when the don't come, baby
But a look is worth a thousand
I feel betrayed
Like it never was what it always seemed to be
I feel betrayed
Like it never mattered, like I, no I never had it

Oh, no
Now I have to worry 'bout it
And I can't stop thinking of the
Sea of Tranquility
Sea of Tranquility
Sea of Tranquility

I held you in my arms
You pointed at the moon
And I could see it in your eyes
The way you smiled at me

I held you in my arms
You pointed at the moon
And I could see it in your eyes
The way you smiled at me

I held you in my arms
You pointed at the moon
And I could see it in your eyes
The way you smiled at me
