

Unheilig, My Bride Has Gone

Raindrops falling on the window pane
A new skyline greets the day
The bad day has gone the good day can come
No more sorrow and pain

The illusion to hold her hand
The delusion to kiss her mouth
Was destroyed on a sweet rainy day
Was destroyed by the act of love

My bride has gone - my bride has gone
I know she was the one
My apology my denial no time to cry
My bride has gone she has gone
On a sweet rainy day

No breath
No heartbeat
Cold eyes and no pain

A thousand eyes of the forest look at me
Their testimony is dumb
The dirt covers her skin
The dirt deformed her beauty
No more memories and pain

The dream to own her
The dream to be her man
Was destroyed on a sweet rainy day
Was destroyed by the act of love

My bride has gone - my bride has gone
I know she was the one
My apology my denial no time to cry
My bride has gone she has gone
On a sweet rainy day

Hear the knocking
Deep in earth abandoned love and the memories gone by
I've been here before maybe I will come back tonight

My bride has gone - my bride has gone
I know she was the one
My apology my denial no time to cry
My bride has gone she has gone
On a sweet rainy day