Unitopia, I Wish I Could Fly

Standing alone, on the edge of a dream, I'm falling forward and you are there. Over the mountain tops, Over the ocean, spray on your wings, You fly like an eagle, youre soaring free.

Catching the currents that Will send you higher on Icarus wings, Defying gravitys realm. Dance with the angels, The force of the wind caresses your body, Feel the warm touch of the sun light.

Dont get too close or youll cast a self doubt on what you were told Escape from realitys hold

All of this time Ive been waiting To reach for the stars in the sky You spend all your life recreating And once more you wish you could fly

From the land that lay dormant the lushness appears You search for perfection but nothings there Over the mountain tops Over the ocean, spray on your wings, You flew like the eagle so wild and free.

Catching the currents that Will send you higher on Icarus wings Defying gravitys realm
