==translation (rough)==

Oh darkness of the prison stall, we love the darkness
There is nothing after the night but the dawn of glory to rise Oh land of pride, the headquarter of the devoted ones
We landed to you as youth who fear no death and we all promised together, the day we swore we will never betray the compact, and we took the honesty a religion Oh prisinors excuse us And listen to what we have to say entertain us with the air, which cutting it off would be a sin I swear to god, i've not forgotten whay my country suffers so oh star, testify of my fidelity and goodwill Oh sound of my handcuffs, give me more grace/blessing to () my heart

In your sound the meaning of sorrowfulness and oppression Ive never been a sinner, I've never betrayed order
But the love of my country lives in my heart
