Unleash The Archers, Tonight We Ride

Hold on to this moment for all time, this is the night we ride I hear them calling our name Raising the flag and fuelling the flame

I'll find my destination; don't tell me where to go I won't give in this time, feel the power Not this time, scream it louder

Voyage o'er the mountains and wastelands Far beyond the sea lies fortune

No regrets, just live for the fight Renounce your precious lives and ride

Take hold of your steel chariot; though ours is gone, lives on Rise to the Challenge or fall Nothing will hinder our rise to the call

We'll find our destination, can't tell us where to go We won't give in this time, feed the hunger Not this time, growing stronger

We'll find our destination; let's go!

Fly, redeem tonight Destroy, renounce your precious lives and ride
