Unleashed, The Immortals

Rise - my armies - with power - from Hell - we march...

When all their power's gone and nothing's left but shame We are the evil ones, a pestilence they say We tear their souls apart by just being what we are ...And to forever be the ones to blame

There's nothing here for us in their world of love and trust We vomit in their eyes and face them with disgust We are the tyrants of the darkness as they say ...And we will never obey

So rise - my armies - with power - from Hell - we march...

We leave your god behind, he's shaking with fright See the hatred in our eyes shining so bright Possessed by Hell itself we stand up to charge ...And rise from the flames

This is the time for vengeance, now their end is near We strike with hateful power, we have no fear We are the immortals of a never ending race ...And we shall fight 'til the end

Now the time has come For all the fools to pray Come on, face the slayer Now's your time to pay

So rise - immortals - with power - and might - we slay ...
