

Unshine, Inner Fray

backwoods of my dream I'm strolling deeper in something's nearing close still I'm feeling secure

cathedral of trees
crowns the shade of deepest green in this dome
is your home

edge of winter eve
soul is fortified
do you hear the distant howls it's time to leave
in the raven's eye
glimmering of life
in the embrace of the wild
a place for home

standing on spiral
is bearer of the horns
time is short in my eyes and gold will wane to dust confounded by the words of grey man of the woods in layers of mind

I'm feeling fine
