

UnSun, The Other Side

Every day, every night
I see your face in my mind
I will never hear your words again
I know, you left me but just for a while
I felt as if you were in our home
Death has taken you away from me
I feel your touch when I'm alone
I can't believe you're gone, I don't agree
Every day, every night
I see your face in my mind
I will never hear your words again
We'll meet on the other side
Every day, every night
I see your face in my mind
I will never hear your words again
We'll meet on the other side
It was a rainy day
The last time we joined our hands
We were walking the same way
You left me alone, you left me alone
Here is the end of the world, you said so
You looked into my eyes no more
Here is the place where we can pray
And now I've got to pray for your soul
Every day, every night
I see your face in my mind
I will never hear your words again
We'll meet on the other side
Every day, every night
I see your face in my mind
I will never hear your words again
We'll meet on the other side
Maybe someday I'll be closer to you if I believe
Maybe someday I'll be closer to you if I believe
Maybe someday I'll be closer to you if I believe
Maybe someday I'll be closer to you if I believe
Every day, every night
I see your face in my mind
I will never hear your words again
We'll meet on the other side
Every day, every night
I see your face in my mind
I will never hear your words again
We'll meet on the other side
