

UnSuNg ZeRoS, Kristina

so you thought you had a friend but he lied to you again about what you meant to him but that's the way it always goes your never happy and it shows so you go out searching again and every single night you hold on so tight

but your lookin' in the wrong way (the wrong way)

and when he takes you home you still feel alone
'cause you got it from the wrong place (the wrong place)

you say your happy on your back but when your head is full of crach but your lieing to yourself so you go down on him again 'cause he says he loves you over again but you walk right out as if to prove that every single night

you hold on so tight
but your lookin' in the wrong way
(the wrong way)

you still feel alone
(the wrong place)

so you wonder what you've lost sit and calculate the cost and it seems pretty darn big but the message finally got through and now you know just what to do so here we go againnnn and now you search your heart which is a better start than lookin' in the wrong way (the wrong way)

now when the lights go out your no longer in doubt
'cause you got it from the right place

so you search your heart
which is a better start
