

UnSuNg ZeRoS, Story Of A Stamp

Timmy died last night a freak car accident never saw the pole that he hit had no premonition
but what's the saddest is the note he left unsent Briana dear I love you oh this note it said
for two long years Timmy had never found the words just a blank stare at her face when she would ask the question and now for her that message goes unheard just a stamp between her and the truth

The little things sometimes they're worth so much more than what they seem sometimes they're all that matters

Briana cried all night her one true love was dead and while she thought he loved her back she'd never heard him say it so later on she put a gun against her head blew her brains out found a place where Tim could love her there found on the morning after Tim was found it seemed such a sad story of broken hearts was never written if only tim had stamped and mailed his note you see Briana could have lived another day
