

UnSuNg ZeRoS, True Story

three hours and one ticket later after plying in a barn in a used auto lot where it was so cold i could not fret the notes just right we headed back to our hometown where we'll dream of better things to come dream of better things to come ten minutes after finishing we're packed up to go home and face another day cause once again we were not paid enough to cover food or rent or anything we need to make these roadtrips not a dream i'll dream of better things to come
