

Uriah Heep, Love In Silence (Know Yourself)

This is our world our future
These are our times
I believe we have to see
In silence there's no mystery
The world is so busy talking
What do they know they're missing out on being alive
Words are turning into lies
We're looking for a love to guide us
What do we know
The truth is never to be told
It's waiting there inside your soul
The innocent join in fighting
So easily
In a world of pain and war who knows what they're fighting for Many rivers running out to sea
One heart with a cry for love
Many dreamers in a moonlit sky
One sigh and they're gone
Love is the one direction
That leads to truth
Knowing in your heart what's right
You'll walk upon the sea of light
There's something in love and silence
That you can find
Know yourself and all around
Listen to the only sound
Many rivers running out to sea
One heart with a cry for love
Many dreamers in a moonlit sky
One sigh and they're gone
Many rivers running out to sea
One heart with a cry for love
Many dreamers in a moonlit sky - one sigh and they're gone
