Vader, Steeler

Catch the play now, eye to eye Don't let chances pass you by Always someone at your back Biding their time for attack

Check for decoys, stay sharp edged Double-crossers get your head Carpet-baggers bluff and strike Kiss of Judas, spider like

Waiting like jackals to sneak up and trick you Wolves in sheep's clothing, so deft in consoling Lurking in shadows, they pounce least expected When you come to, they'll have gone right through you

Tricksters, jilters play their game Sleight-of-handers, all the same Masquerader in his lair Wants to tangle in your hair
