

Vampiria, Ambassador Of Morning (Salve Luxfer)

The last shine of wisdom, the tree of life is dead now. I've the darkest vision, from the iced depths of lakes.

I saw a bloody angel, with the inverted cross of fire, his eyes full of hatred, has been seen the end of time.

Believe in Satan!

I will ride the wind forever, over the thorns, over any destiny. Bring me your light, ambassador of morning, into my hands, the flames of... Lucifer.

Fly into the night, the ashes of time will fall over us, the power of your spell, will be, my sword and my heart.
