

Van Canto, Take To The Sky

Faith and creed and my belief
Will make you carry on
On these wings of trust
You will fly away
Just hold on and you'll succeed
Remember you're the one
One day one will speak of you
As the light of the day

Only my thoughts will remain
Nothing that ever took place
Will smut my name
I will start over again

I fly with teardrops in my eyes
Will I ever return
To places I have been?

Take to the sky
Look back from high above
I am on target
For something beyond
Take to the sky
Grounded on Mother Earth
Thankful for strong wings to fly
I will take to the sky

I can ensure you that I
Will always keep you in my heart
Until I die
Nothing will part us again

I fly with teardrops in my eyes
Will I ever return
To places I have been?
For years and years I tried
I'll finally arrive
Thunderous, the winds will blare my name

Take to the sky
Look back from high above
I am on target
For something beyond
Take to the sky
Grounded on Mother Earth
Thankful for strong wings to fly
I will take to the sky

Faith and creed and my belief
Will make you carry on
On these wings of trust
You will fly away
Just hold on and you'll succeed
Remember you're the one
One day one will speak of you
As the light of the day

I take to the sky
I look back from high above
I am on target
For something beyond
I take to the sky
Still grounded on Mother Earth
Thankful for strong wings to fly really high

Take to the sky
Look back from high above
I am on target
For something beyond
Take to the sky
Grounded on Mother Earth
Thankful for strong wings to fly
I will take to the sky

One day one will speak of you
As the light of the day