Oh, steam

You know it's steam

It's now been 15 days
Since you've been steamed at me
And I don't want
Your frustration and your madness pushed and blamed on me
Cause you're crazy for the day
And you're crazy for the night
And what the hell, you've been crazy for your life
And I don't want people thinking
I'm not treating you right

It's the Nature of it
Steam
When you're saying those things
That you don't really mean
You can blame it on the rain
You can blame it on the heat
It's the nature of it
Steam

I have my morals
And I have decent respect
For our relationship
I'm hope that you are doing all your best
Well I'm not so great
But I'm better in other ways
You can't see it but I'm trying anyway
It's the nature of the game
That's what I claim

It's the nature of it
Steam
When you're saying those things
That you don't really mean
You can blame it on the rain
You can blame it on the heat
It's the nature of it
Steam
It's the nature of it
Steam
When you're saying those things
That you don't really mean
You can blame it on the rain
You can blame it on the heat
It's the nature of it
Steam

You seem to put it all by me
The sky, your health, your dreams
And your beliefs
And I seem to protect and respect everything
Too naturally

Steam
Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh
Oh (steam)

More days, more days

I'm steamed in every way
I said no way, no way
I'm steamed in every way
It's the nature of it
Steam

It's the nature of it
Steam
It's the nature of it
Steam

More days, more days
I'm steamed in every way
I said no way, no way
I'm steamed in every way
I said more days, more days
I'm steamed in every way
I said no way, no way
This is where I stay
