

Vanessa Williams, Strangers Eyes

All alone, a rainy night
No one around but I fell someone watching me
I look around, the street is bare nobody there
I wonder what it could be
As I turned to walk away
Suddenly I saw his face
Never minding that we were alone
Didn't care about the time, at the moment I was felling fine

I was looking into stranger's eyes
(he caught me by surprise)
They looked right through me
(he looking into my eyes)
Never knew
Never, ever thought that love could be
(that's when he came)
He came and captured me

Like a scene out of a dream, I can't believe it
Kind of strange and familiar
But in his eyes I get a sign, I get a feeling
I get the feeling he knows me
Maybe I could stay a while, maybe I could make you smile
I don't have much to do
Maybe we could walk awhile

Maybe, maybe we could talk awhile

Can't help looking into stranger's eyes
I was looking into stranger's eyes
(he caught me by surprise)
They looked right through me
(he looked into my eyes)
Never knew
Never, ever thought that love could be
(that's when he came)
He came and captured me

How was I to know this would happen
Thought I didn't know I would meet this stranger
It's the kind of thing that dreams are made of
And I keep thinking about stranger's eyes
I was looking into stranger's eyes
(he caught me by surprise)
They looked right through me
(he looked into my eyes)
Never knew
Never, ever thought that love could be
(that's when he came to me)
He came and captured me
