Vanilla Sky, Your Words

This ringing's getting on my nerves
Your message always hurt someone that I don't know
Please tell me what you think about
The way you turn me inside out
Sometimes you really make me laugh so I don't care
I wonder when all this began

My phone I smashed it on the ground
This time I could stop the sound inside of me
Please tell me everything you feel
Don't write me, speak in front of me
Don't fool me now that you can see
That it is all me I believe in anything but

Your words won't be better if you're gone
"I never felt like that before" you said, "I'm making up my mind"
My life won't be better without you
"I never felt like that before" you said, "I'm making up my mind"

Turn off the light right now, I wanna sleep tonight
So please don't call me now, don't want you to let me down

You call me every day and every night
Sometimes I think you're gonna cry
So I try
To make you understand that
Everything you did was so useless

Your words won't be better if you're gone
"I never felt like that before" you said, "I'm making up my mind"
My life won't be better without you
"I never felt like that before" you said, "I'm making up my mind"
