Various, Its Raining Men

We are here for you just to tell you the truth Yeah, we know it's not new But we're here from the start And that'll break you apart - uuuhhh... You've got light a candle to be with me 'cause you know I am so high above you, I can't see but if you put a fire in your window I can show you where the wind blows Chorus: It's allright... Let's go, the wind has changed, it blows so wild now hit the fear and sing a song, yeah, sing it like a child don't you see, we are flying like batman we are going to the promised land Chorus: It's allright ... We're on the way to somewhere, we don't know but the time will show us where we stand, where we can go don't you see we are burning like a sunball yeah, we like it when the rain falls Chorus: It's allright ...
