

Various, Whith A Smile And A Song

DONNA SUMMER

Like the welcome of spring like the light that you bring to the skies that were empty and grey just your breath in the night can make it alright when you sigh as you're drifting away oh baby
All that is simple and good lives in the places you stood the things that are pure and true paint a picture of you And you are all I can think of Whenever there is love
Whenever there is love
Whenever there is love
Like a brief desert rain like the air that remains making everything suddenly new Oh baby and like the light in your eyes as if you and I made a world that was only for two oh tell me baby
If you are lost I will find you no matter where you go
If you fall I'll be behind you
