Veil Of Sorrow, In The Midnight Hour

A mask of sad rebelion In defiance raised To the heavens above The streangth that wasn't there A heart bound for cruelty An all Consuming agony

There could be no tomorow When yesterday was despair

The glimmer of a dying star In beauty in itself How tragic it may seem Cleanse the soul from pain Gateway to oblivion All bitter seasons fade

There could be no tomorow When yesterday was despair In the wishing hours late Nothing ever changed
