

Velocity Girl, Catching Squirrels

hey baby you don't know me feel me by you hold me now not the way i wanted you made me lose my mind i often wonder while i'm crying that place always scared me with that solitary look baby it's cold it's cold outside and it feels so long since I saw you why won't she shake and shudder cos i would die here right beside you i don't like you're lies you can be so unkind when you wonder I start crying i can't help being so in love with you i can't say you are to blame who would spend the time for foolish me we are catching squirrels now...
