

Venera, I'm Not

I don't believe you
You twist the truth
when you speak
Of my intelligence
You'd better make amends
Take it back
I won't exemplify the vile lies
I know you told about me
During that time
I thought you were my friend
You and I were inseparable but now you have become totally unacceptable
And I'm still harmless
as a cloud
But I'm not insane
Don't you call me mad
I warn you

I'm not

When we first met you said you thought I was the most clever Guy you know now I don't know what I've done wrong
What did I do ?
Just 'cause I eat some squirrel meat now and again doesn't mean that I have a faulty brain
Don't call me stupid

I'm not
