

Venom, In Memory Of (Paul Miller 1964-90)

He was in life as he was in death
A well remebered man
His life was taken like a sudden breath that simply wasn't planned

And all that's left to say
Written on his grave it says:

In Memory Of

In all the essence of a friendship he, was never so cold or sad
He tried so hard as he struggled in What little time he had

No more return to home
Written on his stone it says

In Memory Of

And now he's gone all that's left behind
Is a legacy
In the pages of a magazine
Left in time to read the only thing that's said

A memory of his life
Written at it's head it says
All this left behind