

Victor Ly, Superman

I wished upon a shooting star
That an angel would fall from above
I have searched both near and far
And finally found true love

Racing against the speed of light
Just to make sure you're alright
Forever fighting kryptonite
Just so I could hold you tight

I will be your superman
If only you were mine
I've loved you since time began
We're part of destiny's design

If the sun ever fails to rise
I'll still be where I am today
If hell rose and touched the skies
I will not be far away

If the ground broke beneath us now
You'll still be safe with me
I promise to never break my vows
That much I can guarantee

I will be your superman
If only you were mine
I've loved you since time began
We're part of destiny's design

I'll continue to fight all your fears
Just to prove that I'm sincere
I will fly with you everywhere
When we land I'll hold you near

If the heavens crashed upon the earth
I'll hold you in my arms
I'll fight for all that you're worth
You will never ever be harmed

I will be your superman
Just reach out for my hand
I've loved you since time began
If only you could understand
