Viktoria Tolstoy, Love Is Real

If we meet again
I'd tell you how i feel
I'd tell you from the start
I'd tell you love is real

How everything we say And everything we do Has been preordained To bring true love to you

Nothing else is pure Nothing else is right You will know for sure Once you've seen the light