

Villains To The Masses Heroes To The Holy, The

You are the one, my only sun
The only one who will take the pain and run
You've got the nerve, you said the word
You are the only one
You've got the nerve

What will you do?
What will you say?
Where can I go to find the chosen one?
Just say the word to me, tell us what to pray
You are the only one who knows the way

If I come down will you know my face
The fear lives on inside, slightly out of place
Where is the sacrifice you promised me?
Blood stained after all, scared lips and feet

After all the time you spent with me
Can you erase my pain and make the plea?
Sun takes dark by surprise and blows it away woo woo woo woo you'll get away

You are the one, my only sun
The only one who can play the game in fun
You've got the nerve, the only word
You are the only one who remains disturbed