

Virgin Steele, Cry Forever

[Music and lyrics: De Feis]

I should've known better than to look in your eyes
'Cause that's what got me thinking of the love we had shared
Your spell lives on forever- Oh, you captured my heart
How could I forget you, or the love we had made

Seems like only yesterday, when I held you in my arms
And you would softly whisper: "I'll never leave"

[Chorus:]

Cry forever- cry for the dreams we had
Where did our love go, do you ever think of me?
Cry forever- cry for the dreams we'll never share
You made me love you, then you turned your back upon me now

Oh, I remember lying side by side
Your heart gently beating, softly with mine
Your face just like an angel, smiling up at me
The hunger and the passion, when we'd set our love free

Now the clock is slowly ticking in this empty room
The images are haunting like a candle through the gloom

Cry forever...

I dreamed about you last night and the vision was so clear
Of you and I together with no pain, lies or tears
I woke up late this morning, with you still on my mind
I could swear that you were with me, I was back there in time

Pictures in the night, can't sustain the light of day
I need someone to hold me, who'll never fade away

Cry forever...

Do you ever think of me.. at all?
