

Visions Of Atlantis, Return To Lemuria

When i dare close my eyes i feel the vibrant morning rise
One the shores of that dear and secret island
I've waited for too long to join you where true love belongs
Let's embark on a journey back to island

Leave the world behind this once in a lifetime
Our compass will reaveal the place where where "us" is real
Sailing the sea where legend will live
All our stories and memories are mine to belive
Walking there hand in hand
As king kings of our own land
Our return to lemuria

Until the day has come i wish to stay with you alone
But i dread that you'll leave without a warning

I hear your words my dear inside i share this deepest fear
But we knoww there will dawn a darker morning

Leave the world behind this once in a lifetime
Our compass will reaveal the place where where "us" is real
Sailing the sea where legend will live
All our stories and memories are mine to belive
Walking there hand in hand
As king kings of our own land
Our return to lemuria...

Leave the world behind this once in a lifetime
Our compass will reaveal the place where where "us" is real
Sailing the sea where legend will live
All our stories and memories are mine to belive
Walking there hand in hand
As king kings of our own land
Our return to lemuria...

Holding you in my hearth
As we sail apart
End the dream called lemuria