Volbeat, Maybellene I Hofteholder

Saturday I love you like gold Not like the Monday, you pass like a ghost The fire killed you like a motherless child I saw you last Sunday at Barbara Hotel... Oh oh oh oh- oh babe I'm so sorry, I know where to go... Could scream like a pig, Could bark like a dog Just to get attention as I'm chasing you down the hall Oh Maybelenne you've been so lonely Got a fire burning as I'm smoking you out again... Still all the leaves will keep on falling Until I see you dancing on the table 45 again (I) see you dancing for the young ones oh oh oh Maybellene I Hofteholder Could you be the only one Well I beg you to come home Dance forever my only one Could scream like a pig, Could bark like a dog Just to get attention as I'm chasing you down the hall Oh Maybellene you've been so lonely Got a fire burning as I'm smoking you out again... (I) see you dancing for the young ones oh oh oh Maybellene I Hofteholder (I) see you dancing for the young ones oh oh oh Maybellene I Hofteholder Could you be the only one Well I beg you to come home Dance forever my only one I flicked the switch at Monday night Oh Maybellene I'm so sorry that I didn't see it coming. And now the sky, I filled with prayers. Oh baby I'm sorry I was blind
