Volbeat, The Devil's Bleeding Crown

Falling from the sky, they're cast out from the heaven's light Drenching the soil with blood, baptized in the fire hole

The Devil's spawn no longer breathes Descending angels and fallen kings Raise your hands, what do you hold? The Devil's bleeding crown!

Call upon it's Father, bless the goat, the womanizer Take him to Astaroth, Inanna's temple of Uruk

The Devil's spawn no longer breathes Descending angels and fallen kings Raise your hands, what do you hold? The Devil's bleeding crown!

They gathered all the children outside the church And never would they know what went on in there Close the door and hear all the angels scream "Oh mercy, mercy, mercy, oh mercy, please!" Down, down, down Down below you can hear his hoof digging through the ground Oh Lord, Lord, Lord The horned one is back and he wants his crown

The Devil's spawn no longer breathes Descending angels and fallen kings Raise your hands, what do you hold? The Devil's bleeding crown!
