

Von Herten Brothers, Disciple Of The Sun

you are the one
the chosen one on the run
where would you run?
disciple of the sun

you are the sign
the beacon for mankind
soon you will shine
the rays of love and light

lay your eyes on me
let your self reflect me see what your life could be don't let your self reject me
free so free
let your self reflect me

don't let your self forget me, forget me don't close your door on me

this way
hear what i have to say

wake up!
i am the morning
i am the afternoon
it's me calling you

around every corner
and after nightfall
my moon is watching over you
