W.A.S.P., The Raging Storm

(Jesse to God)

A storm is come One war of sun and rain - within me A raging storm Lost crossroads thundering - in the wind Dark and son Who's the only one To lay claim of me Altars of store Righteous temptations Here at my feet

Give me love To rage in me can you see? Only love Is saving me Give me love, oh love That rage in me

It rages on Of mourn and memories In the wind A warring storm My soul is bargaining - in the end Is there no sun? With only love in vain - and it's pain Hear me oh Lord Cleanse me evermore with Your blood of rain

Holy war for my soul Scares of memories remain Oh, tell me why am I here Storms of crossroads are rage
