

Waikiki, Frail

I walked into the cathedral
As I fell onto the steeple
And it made me feel so
Honest and frail
As I leant upon the table
I worked as if I were unable
Then I saw him
Sliding my way

And he said don't be
Do not be afraid
We are living in this big old movie god has made
And we're sifting through the breeze all alone
Now we're just about to start the main show

So I looked at him and whispered
Thanks a lot, but I think I missed it
Well he said do not fret
We're playing it again

Well he said look above they're shooting it from heaven
And he said don't be
Do not be afraid

We are living in this big old movie god has made
And we're sifting through the breeze all alone
Now we're just about to start the main show
da da da, da da da da da da...
