

Wakefield, Give Me A Reason

Now the year is almost over, nothing left to keep me sober, suck it up,
where am i going now School is out, the rumors ending no more time for me pretending That the girl i want is here right now

Im on my own
Give me a reason,
That i should care anymore
That i should care anymore
dont look now
cause its a long way down

Teachers done with all their failing In too deep and now im bailing but the waters way above my head All the books and dirty lockers thoughts of you and staying after school with the girl thats leaving me behind

Im on my own
Give me a reason,
That i should care anymore
That i should care anymore
Give me a reason,
That i should care anymore
That i should care anymore
dont look now
cuz its a long way down

Its over,
Maybe forever
I'm on my own
Time is running out my days are spent the clocks ticking now I'm on my own

Now the year is almost over,
everyone is clean and sober suck it up, im in the real world now

Give me a reason,
That i should care anymore
That i should care anymore
Give me a reason,
That i should care anymore
That i should care anymore

Hold on to,
what you do
when you find your one Hold on to,
what you do
when you find your one

Dont look now
cuz its a long way down