

Waldeck, Morning Light

It's hard to leave you
To be without you
The further out the more alone
It's cold when I'm all by myself
Not used to being on my own
I'm trying to make it through the night
Wishing you still my side
But I'm not looking back
Sticking to the track
Heading for the light

It's you I'm missing
When I wake up
In the morning so alone
A day can be long fighting memories
When grief and doubt are getting strong

I'm trying to make it trough the night
Wishing you still by my side
But I'm not looking back
Sticking to the track
Heading for the morning light
