

Walls Of Jericho, Changing Times

Times have tried

Now you and I must complete the cycle

When equality cant be built in a day

Where do we go from there?

To divide us is to separate

Let's turn and start again

Where do we go from here?

Every opportunity is there

When standards can be met

Because the difference is what you and I make of it

Break it down - I'll try if you try

But equality can't be built in a day

So I'll follow with time on my side

I'll keep trying while you push through this wall that you let divide

You and I