

Walls Of Jericho, The Haunted

We must survive

This is a wake up call to all who shut their eyes
This is our hope, hopeless beaten strife
You kill the messenger not to hear it
It doesn't mean it never happened
It doesn't mean it never happens

This is our mission statement to go show the world
We must survive

We've been dealt there's nothing left to chance
And the ending of this story is not filled with catchy hooks
So save your "It will all be o. k." anthems
And It's not getting any better
No It's not getting any better

This is where we stand, I hope you're ready to end this tragedy