

Wanda Jackson, It'll Take Awhile

Here I sit alone and broken hearted walk the floor all night since we parted
I'll get over you I don't know how or when it'll take awhile hold by can't last till then
Yes it'll take awhile to shake the pain of losing you
Someone will take your place but I don't know who
The world outside holds nothing now for me it'll take awhile to shake your memory (guitar)
So I'll do my best to forget you as I think about the things we used to do
And I'll forget you I don't know how or when it'll take awhile if I'll hold out till then Yes it'll take awhile...
