

Wanda Jackson, You'll Always Have My Love

I'll be right I'll be wrong I'll be weak I'll be strong
Maybe life won't be a song but you'll always have my love
There'll be times I make you blue do the things I shouldn't do
Promises that won't come true but you'll always have my love
We may not own this world and the stars up in the sky
But darling love is something that money can't buy
I may lose I may win be your lover be your friend
Just remember thick or thin you will always have my love
( steel )
We may not own this world...
