War Rocket Ajax, Edge Of The World

Well I wanted to live a rock and roll song.
And I wound up singing "I Was Wrong."
Somewhere between Mike Ness and the Beatles.
I was lookin' for a haystack in the needle.

I was tuned in to the world's muzak.
Pipin' in dreams but the glass was cracked.
Then the world came down with a big ol' crash.
Now I'm singing 'bout the lord like Johnny Cash.

Got a song to sing - Got a tale to tell.
You gotta listen to me well.
Well He came and died
Then rose again and His blood washed away the stain of sin.

Well the boys in the band and the rest of the crew.
Gonna thank - Gonna thank my God for you my rock n roll dreams a comin' true.
It's a punk rock heaven and rock a billy too.
Well bye bye blues - Man there's the door.
And don't come back no more.
Got walkin' shoes - I put 'em on the floor.
Gonna walk it like I talk it to the edge of the world.
