

Warner Mack, She Goes Walking Through My Mind

She goes walking through my mind

I've tried to drive away her mem'ry but each night it comes back to torture me

Cause again there she is right on time when she goes walking through my mind

She goes walking through my mind caring out a little each time

Her footsteps are getting louder all the time when she goes walking through my mind

(steel)

Tonight I will sleep though I'm not trying for sleep makes me dream then I start crying

For again I get the glimpse of what was mine when she goes walking through my mind

When she goes walking...
