Waterdeep, I AM

I am more than you think I am more than you know I'm as black as the darkest night And whiter than snow You're tipping through wires and words And spires and tombstones

I have burned with desire Felt the air become fire Buried Myself with stones Given lions my bones And I love you whether or not you believe Me

I'm as swift as an arrow But I'm slow when you stray I'm as calm as the waters That we walked on that day And I love whether or not you believe Me

If you ask Me again My reply still will stand I am who I am And I love whether or not you believe Me
